Problem (public)

How can one find out the serial number of a CodeMeter dongle?

Solution (public)

Each CodeMeter has its individual serial number. It is engraved on the dongle:

If you do not have the CodeMeter present, you can find out the serial number via the CodeMeter Control Center. To do this, however, you must have access to the computer on which the connector is plugged in directly or has access over the network.

The CodeMeter Control Center:
