Festo LX course WBT

Problem (public)

Are old WBT courses with Flash available in LX?

Solution (public)

The problem is due to the Flash Player, which is no longer supported. The WBTs are being converted into a new, HTML-based format by our developers.

Now we offer WBTs for individual use via our new learning portal Festo LX. Our sales colleagues can provide you with more detailed information on this. Local installations of our WBTs (on CD/DVD) will no longer be available due to the ever faster changing software and the risk of compatibility problems. Festo Didactic will increasingly rely on online solutions in the future as well.

As a compensational solution, we would like to offer you free access to our Festo LX learning portal for the next few months. Here you will already find many different learning materials, including the first new WBTs and eLearning courses in HTML.

Please let us know if are interested in Festo LX.
